Milwaukee, January 1st, 1858. jan5d1w

Business Notice.

It will be seen by the announcement in this morning's paper that Messrs. T. D. JERMAIN and HORACE H. BRIGHTMAN have become the sole proprietors of the Sentinel establishment; the editorial charge remaining, as heretofore, in the hands of RUFUS KING. It is the design and determination of the new proprietors to spare no pains or expense to maintain the reputation which the Sentinel has won in the past, as a commercial and political newspaper, and to add to it in the future. The editor has no other promises to make, or pledges to give, than can be found in the columns of the Sentinel during the twelve years that he has been connected with it, further than to say, that so long as his life and health are spared, his highest aim will be to advance the interests and enhance the prosperity of his adopted City and State, and his proudest ambition to render the Sentinel worthy of both, and deserving of the liberal patronage which it has always enjoyed.

THE NEWS.—The Atlantic, with four days later dates from Europe, has arrived. She brings but little news. The Market for Breadstuffs was rather better and money easier. Some additional failures are reported in England and on the Continent, but upon the whole, matters were decidedly a better look. Nothing later from India.

Reports from Washington indicate that Mr. Douglas and Mr. Buchanan will take opposite grounds on the Nicaragua, as they have done on the Kansas question. They are to "change partners," however, Douglas siding this time with the South and Mr. Buchanan with the North.

We have some later intelligence from Kansas. The reported battle between the U. S. troops and the Territorial militia is not confirmed.—Things were quiet, at last accounts, and the Free State men were making ready for the election of the 4th inst.

Death of Miss Leslie.

Miss Eliza Leslie, known to every housekeeper in the land by her books on cookery, died at Gloucester, N. J., on New Year's day. She was a native of Philadelphia, and was 60 years old.—Besides her "Seventy-five Receipts," her "Behavior Book," and her works on housekeeping, Miss Leslie was the author of "Althea Vernon," "Amelia, or a Young Lady's vicissitudes," "Mrs. Washington Potts," and other spirited tales and sketches. She was a sister of C. R. Leslie, the celebrated English painter.

CALIFORNIA GOLD.—The San Francisco Times gives the following as the annual shipments of gold from California since the discovery of the precious metal there:

1849	$ 3,121,250
1850	27,676,346
1851	42,582,695
1852	46,586,134
1853	58,387,824
1854	51,338,552
1855	43,080,211
1856	48,387,546

The shipments for the first six months of 1857 were $23,638,980—being in excess of the amount for the same period of any preceding year with the exception of 1853, 1854 and 1856. The amount shipped for the nine months of 1857 was $35,130,754, and it is estimated the whole shipments of the present year will be about $49,000,000. It would be considerably more should there be rainy weather in the three closing months. Calling the shipments of the present year $48,000,000, the total amount of gold which has been made received from California since the discovery foots up the enormous sum of $333,600,457.

QUICK WORK FOR WINTER.—We received by mail, last evening, the New York afternoon papers of Monday—through in two days. That will do.

LA CROSSE & MILWAUKEE R. R.—The N. Y. Express of Monday, 4th instant, contains the following item:

The La Crosse & Milwaukee Company have received from Washington the titles of the lands appertaining to forty miles of the road. The interest on the land grant bonds due in February, it is understood, will be promptly met.

PRIVATE SECRETARY AND LIBRARIAN. — The new Governor has done two very sensible acts on coming into office.

He has appointed two able and prominent editors to the two offices in his gift most sought after—W. H. Watson late of the Sentinel as Private Secretary, and H. Rublee, of the Journal, as Librarian.

There is no class of people more deserving the favors of those in power than party editors.—They do nearly all the labor to elect their party candidates, are constantly in the breach and take all the "raking fire"—keep up the standard of the party when no campaign calls its leaders to the field, and generally get all the kicks and few of the coppers for party services.

Messrs. Watson and Rublee will both make good officers. The latter has already occupied the office to which he is re-appointed for two years, and has, we believe, given general satisfaction.—Madison Argus, (dem.)

THE STATE TREASURY—THE TRANSFER OF THE FUNDS.—Mr. Kuehn, the ex-Treasurer, delivered over the keys of the Treasury together with the moneys, stocks &c., thereunto pertaining, last evening at 5 o'clock. The editorial fraternity of Madison were invited to be present on the occasion. There were some $124,000 in cash, principally belonging to the School and Swamp Land fund, and between three and four millions of State Stocks. Mr. Kuehn's accounts proved to be all correct, and he evidently felt a just pride in the accuracy with which the affairs of the office have been kept during his incumbency.—Madison Journal.

ADDITIONAL APPOINTMENTS.—Mr. Squires, the Bank Comptroller, has appointed Richard M. Sweet, Esq., of Mineral Point, his assistant.

C. H. Purple Esq., of Waukesha county, a good business man, as well as true Republican, has been appointed Clerk in the Treasury, by Mr. Hastings. Mr. Purple was formerly a member of the Assembly.—Madison Journal.

XXXVth Congress—First Session.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee of the whole on the state of the Union on the President's Annual Message.

Mr. J. Glancy Jones, in the House, submitted a series of resolutions referring to the various branches of the Message to the appropriate standing committees. He expressed the hope that they would be adopted forthwith, as the Message had been before the country nearly a month.

Mr. Chatard thought they had plenary power and ample instructions for the course they deemed proper to pursue.

Mr. Lovejoy said if the neutrality laws needed a change, he would vote for it. He protested against this attempt to elevate into honor a buccaneer, a murderer, and a pirate; as for the fact, they had the authority of the President, who says that Walker is a fugitive from justice, and has escaped from justice and escaped from jail, and now they were asked to bow to the magnanimity of the criminal who yielded to the officer. (Laughter.) Great magnanimity indeed, when a man can't help himself. (Laughter.) That was done under the police arrangements every day. If they had to bow to every such man as a hero, they would soon exhaust their power of admiration. (Laughter.) If Com. Paulding had hung him—Walker—at the yard-arm, he—Lovejoy—would have honored him for it. This is the treatment which such pirates ought to have held out to them. He entered his protest against clothing a man with heroism and making him a martyr when he is simply a rascal. (Excessive laughter.)

Mr. Stanton said he understood that settled rule of international law to be, that every nation has the right to pursue its criminals on the high seas, and arrest them wherever found under the flag, and when it can be done legitimately under any other flag. The President says in his message that Walker escaped, and it was on that ground that his arrest was made.

A long debate ensued.

Mr. Crittenden attacked the neutrality laws, denying thus the law of nations requires independent States to restrain their citizens from making hostile aggression over other States.

Mr. Keitt said the pursuit of any expedition more than three miles from land was unlawful, and its capture upon a foreign soil was unlawful.

Mr. Glancey Jones said the President only asked the employment of an additional force in case of necessity to execute the laws and the enforcement of the neutrality laws.

Mr. Stevens denounced the arrest of Walker as an outrage unjustified by even the semblance of law. Reparation and restitution should be made. Walker and his men should be put on board a national ship and returned to where they were before the outrage was committed.

Mr. Bocock believed that Com. Paulding had acted illegally, but maintained that we have unlimited power to use the army and navy on the ocean.

Mr. Grow was pleased to see so much feeling manifested on the other side of the house against executive encroachments on the rights of our citizens. He asked that the rule applied to the sun be applied to the land, for the army for the last two years had been employed in Kansas, perpetrating outrage and injustice on the rights guaranteed to every freeman.

Mr. Maynard trusted that this question would be discussed on its intrinsic merits, separated from Kansas, Utah and all others.

CITY MATTERS.

ABOUT THE HARBOR AND SCHOOL HOUSES.—Speaking about the "Straight Cut," which the Mayor says is finished and rather intimates is paid for, we notice the following "little bill" among the accounts presented at the last meeting of the Council:

Ald. Mallory presented a memorial from E. and T. Sims, praying that a balance of $6,035, 96, due to them on their contract for dredging the middle ground of the Milwaukee River, be paid to them without delay.

Referred to the Harbor Committee.

In the Comptroller's statement of the City liabilities, are the two following items:

Due on Harbor Contract	$13,168
Due on School Houses	10,000
Total	$23,178

Viewed in the above light, the famous veni, vidi, vici,—telegraph despatch of the Mayor, reads a little queer. Here it is, as published in the News of October 24th:

New York, Oct. 23.

I have got the money for the Harbor and School Houses. Shall be home soon.

JAS. B. CROSS.

If the Mayor really did get this money, pray what did he do with it?

OUR NEW-YEAR WEATHER.—Of this lot we make a record for future reference. No year within the memory of "the oldest inhabitant," or the oldest inhabitant's oldest ancestor, since the time that Hendrick Hudson made his entrance into the river that still bears his name, over commenced more auspiciously than the year 1858, so far as the weather is concerned. The sun rose clear and bright as any May morning; and it looked down upon the city all day with a most cheerful face of brightness unequaled upon any day in the year, and when the sun went down the moon lent her light in the brightest style of an American Winter.

And all day and evening the temperature was as balmy as Autumn, so that many persons, who had, merely for the looks of the thing, a Winter fire, were impelled to open the windows to cool their over-heated rooms; while those out in the open air found light Winter dresses more than enough for comfort. So began and ended the first day of the year, 1858, bright, clear and lovely, and long to be remembered.—New York Tribune, Jan. 2

The New-Year seems to have opened brilliantly all over the country. Let us hope that it may prove of good augury. Here in Milwaukee, we had the advantage of our New York cousins, on New-Years' Day, in the enjoyment of capital sleighing.

MILWAUKEE AND MISSISSIPPI RAIL ROAD.—The receipts of the Milwaukee & Mississippi R. R. for the month of December last past, were $41,500, against $33,060, during the same month, last year. Considering the general prostration of business and the great falling off in travel, this is a very fair showing.

The Southern Wisconsin R. R., which connects with the M. & M. R. R. at Milton, is now completed to Monroe, the County seat of Green County, some 36 miles west of Janesville, and is to be opened for business on Monday next. A celebration, in honor of this event, comes off at Monroe on the 19th instant.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF BUFFALO.—The Express has been designated as the official paper of Buffalo, in accordance with a law which requires that the paper having the largest bona fide circulation in said city shall be so appointed.

This is a sensible regulation. The U. S. Law requires the list of letters, &c., to be advertised in the paper having the largest circulation; in virtue of which law the Sentinel has always published these lists. It would be well for the city to follow Uncle Sam's example in this particular.

DRUGS AND MEDICINES.—In another column will be found advertisements of drugs, medicines, and a variety of articles of every-day use, for sale at the Milwaukee Drug House, No. 195 East Water street, to which we invite the attention of country dealers and others.

WOOD CHOPPERS!—Messrs. H. Bosworth & Sons, No. 189 East Water street, advertise fifteen acres of standing timber, situated within 8 miles of the city, which they will sell upon reasonable terms.

ANOTHER MEETING OF THE COUNCIL.—A special meeting of the Common Council is to be held this evening, to consider the report of the Finance Committee relative to the recommendations of the Comptroller respecting taxes.

ALDERMEN FINED.—Two Aldermen were fined a few days since at Detroit for violating an ordinance which they helped to make. The Tribune speaks favorably of the justice of the act, but thinks the penalties imposed were not heavy enough.

CIRCUIT COURT, JAN. 6—JUDGE MCARTHUR PRESIDING.—The following persons, indicted by the Grand Jury, were arraigned, and pleaded as follows:

Thomas Ryan, indicted for larceny in a shop, plead guilty, and afterwards withdrew his plea, and plead not guilty; Thomas Blake, upon a similar charge, plead guilty, and was sentenced to 1 year's imprisonment in the State prison; John Bierman, charged with larceny in a dwelling, plead not guilty; Eliza McGuril, also indicted for larceny in a dwelling, plead not guilty; Henry B. Orcutt, plead guilty to the charge of stealing in a dwelling, and was sentenced to two year's imprisonment in the state prison.

(This man, when arrested, had just served out a term of a year's imprisonment for larceny)

Wilhelmina Schmidt, indicted for larceny in a dwelling, plead not guilty; Susan Truesdale, for same offence, plead not guilty; Peter Harris and Archibald Harris, indicted for larceny in a dwelling, plead not guilty; Mathias Shabny, indicted for larceny, plead not guilty; John McDermot, Hunter, indicted for larceny in a dwelling, plead guilty, and was sentenced to 3 years imprisonment in state prison; Joseph Zalaski, Anton Barto, and Jacob Coles, indicted for larceny, all plead not guilty; Michael Conners, indicted for larceny on a steamboat, plead guilty, and was sentenced to 2 years imprisonment in the state prison; Frederick Groll plead guilty to the charge of larceny in a shop, and was sentenced to 1 year's imprisonment; Wilhelmina Marsch, plead not guilty to the charge of larceny in a dwelling; Michael Cunningham, indicted for larceny in a dwelling, withdrew his plea of guilty, and plead not guilty; Nicholas Hiney, indicted for bigamy, plead guilty, and was sentenced to 2 years imprisonment in the state prison.

ROUGH AND READY NO. 4—ANNUAL ELECTION.—At the annual meeting of Rough and Ready Engine Company No. 4, at their Engine House on Tuesday evening, January 5th, 1858, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Foreman—T. H. Eviston.
First Assistant Foreman—Edward Dore.
Second " " —Thomas Dunn.
Secretary—C. A. Pember.
Treasurer—J. C. Goodrich.
Hose Captain—J. H. Eviston.
Steward—A. Schroeder.
Trustees—C. A. Pember and Thomas H. Eviston.

At the meeting of this company, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That we tender our sincere thanks to our worthy Foreman, T. H. Eviston, for the energetic and faithful discharge of his duties as Foreman of this Company, and keeping the company in as good standing as it is at present;—also,

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the officers for the faithful discharge of their duties as officers of said company for the past year.

ANNUAL REPORT OF CHIEF OF POLICE.—We are indebted to Mr. BECK, Chief of Police, for a copy of his annual statement or report, which from its length we cannot print to-day, but will lay it before our readers to-morrow. From it we learn that the whole number of arrest made by our police during the past year for various offences was 2,818, two hundred of which were females. Of the arrests made 1,446 were for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 134 for assault and battery, 8 for murder, 94 for grand larceny, 140 for petit larceny, 4 for horse stealing, 2 for burglary, 8 for rape, 2 for manslaughter, 8 for robbery, 11 for passing counterfeit money, 9 for swindling, 7 for bastardy, 2 for bigamy, 6 for adultery, 4 for arson, and the balance for various other crimes. Of these arrested 1,005 were Irish, 556 German and 374 American.

THE BALL TO-MORROW NIGHT.—The crowning ball of the season will no doubt be the annual party of the Milwaukee Light Guard, which takes place to-morrow night at Albany Hall. The new American Band will make its debut upon that occasion which we anticipate will be a brilliant one. The supper, which is got up by Messrs. Kean & Rice, will be in the spacious dining room of the Newhall House, and a covered passage temporarily constructed across Michigan street, so that the guests will not be at all exposed in going from the ball room to supper. A large number of visitors are expected from abroad, and the ball will undoubtedly be one of the most brilliant that has ever been given in our city.

☞ GERMANIA FIRE COMPANY, elected at their meeting, Monday last, the following officers for the ensuing year:

Foreman—C. F. Bentzler.
First Assistant—Chas. Krieske.
Second Assistant—A. Caspary.
Secretary—P. V. Deuster.
Treasurer—B. Haberstook.
Hose Captain—G. Bernges.
Trustee for two years—C. T. Melms.
Steward—Henry Rollman.

CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC.—The Choir of the Spring street M. E. Church, will give a concert this evening, at the Church, assisted by eminent musical talent. These entertainments have been well received in time past, and we have no doubt that those who attend will feel richly repaid.

POLICE COURT, JAN. 6.—Daniel McCauley was fined $5 and costs for being drunk; Ellen Linnehan, charged with being disorderly, case held open; Susan Lafont, disorderly, case adjourned to to-day.

NOT GUILTY.—Patrick Rau and James O'Donnell, charged with being disorderly, were found not guilty.

James Richards was fined $1 for fast driving upon a bridge.

A LAND OFFICE BUSINESS.—CALEB WALL is doing a "Land Office business," at the store, on the corner of Spring and West Water streets, heretofore occupied by J. L. PIERCE. Mr. Wall is selling off, at and under cost, a large and choice stock of Dry Goods, fresh from New York, and it takes Caleb himself and six smart Clerks to attend to the rush of customers.

LECTURES ON SPIRITUALISM.—We learn that S. J. Finney, the eloquent champion in the cause of spiritualism, will commence a course of lectures upon that subject at Young's Hall, on Sunday next.

Madison City Town and Land Company.

A. B. PAUL, one of the proprietors, is now in this city for the purpose of securing machinery for mills, &c. All persons contemplating moving West early in the coming season, are cordially invited to call and examine our plans, maps, &c., at the American House. A good opportunity is also offered to mechanics and tradesmen of all kinds, to secure—"even with limited means"—good homes in one of the richest valleys of the Northwest.

See pamphlet containing sketch, &c., of country adjacent, and plan of the proprietors in building up an important point on the Sioux River, Iowa. We want actual settlers. Call and see us and talk the matter over. dec230dif

BALL AT SMITH'S HOTEL.—There is, we learn, to be a social ball at Smith's Hotel on Main St., on the evening of the 12th inst. Mr. Smith, whom everybody knows—or used to know—as proprietor of the Milwaukee House, informs us that he intends to make this one of the most agreeable parties given this season, and he hopes that his pains may be rewarded by a liberal turn out on the part of his friends and the public.—We unite with him in this desire, and do not doubt that all who attend will have a right merry time.

EIGHTH OF JANUARY.—The Light Guard celebrate their National Holiday, to-morrow, by a Parade in the afternoon and a Ball in the evening. The Ball promises to be the most attractive and successful affair of the season. It is to be given in the spacious and elegant Hall of the Albany, while the supper will be served at the Newhall House; a covered way connecting the two, during the evening. The tickets are going off like "hot cakes." Apply early, if you want one. They may be had of any of the Officers or members of the Light Guard. A strong deputation is expected from Chicago, and guests are looked for from different points in our own State. The festival will undoubtedly be a joyous one.

For the Sentinel

A Query.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Are Indies admitted to Membership in the Milwaukee Chess Club? If not, why not?

MILWAUKEE.

January 6th, 1858.

(We know of nothing in the Rules of the Club, forbidding the admission of the Ladies, unless the rule enjoining silence can be so construed.

LOUISVILLE.—There is but little doingin the hog market. We hear of a sale of heavy hogs at $4,67, which is a further decline in prices. LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ATLANTIC

SANDY HOOK, Jan. 6.

The steamer Atlantic from Liverpool on the 23d. ult., has just arrived off this point. Her dates are 4 days later than those already received. The Africa arrived out on the 20th ult., and the Kangaroo on the 22d. The principal failure that we have to report is that of Klingender Bro's. of Liverpool, for near half a million sterling.

The message of President Buchanan was very favorably criticized in England.

An earthquake had occurred at Naples, resulting in great damage to property, and considerable loss of life.

The Indian government had been formally notified of the intention of the ministers to terminate the double government in India.

There was a better feeling in the London market, and discounts were readily negotiated at 3 per cent., and a reduction of the Bank rates to this figure was anticipated.

The suspensions include the house of Charles Nicholson & Co., warehouse men, of London, with large liabilities. Also, a few others, for small amounts.

There had been a great improvement in business at Hamburgh.

A reduction of the rates of the Bank of France, to 5 per cent., was anticipated.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.

HOUSE.—Mr. Glancy Jones, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported the bill of appropriation for the support of the Military Academy.

Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill to further amend the act providing for the better security of lives of passengers on board of steam vessels. Its consideration was postponed till the first Tuesday of February.

Mr. Clingman, from Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a series of resolutions, which were adopted, calling on the President to communicate the correspondence between the Secretary of State of the Government of Paraguay and New Grenada, in any way affecting our differences with those Governments and Brazil, relative to the opening of the river Amazon, and the negotiations of a reciprocity or other treaty, and all correspondence on the subject of our relations with Spain, not heretofore made public.

The House went into Committee on the state of the Union, on the President's Message.

SENATE.—Messrs. Houston and Toombs asked but the Senate refused to excuse them from serving on the French Spoliation Bill Committee.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of Mr. Crittenden's resolution in favor of increasing the duties on imports, and substituting home for foreign valuations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.

The Senate to-day, in executive session, ratified the Danish Sound Dues treaty.

The President's message, and accompanying documents relative to Central American affairs, will probably be communicated to Congress to-morrow.

His intimate friends say he will more emphatically condemn fillibustering than he did in his annual message.

According to present indications, Com. Paulding will not be recalled.

Mr. Bernhisel, Delegate from Utah, has appeared before the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Stephens, the Chairman called on the President to consult. The President said that Utah was not yet in rebellion, only threatened. The Committee will probably report in favor of Mr. Bernhisel.

The majority of the Senate Committee are favorable to the Pacific R. R., including Mr. Davis, if it is confined to the Southern route.

Mr. Pickens is nominated for Minister to Russia, and Mr. Clark, of Kentucky, for Guatemala.

Gov. King's Message.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.

Governor King's message was not delivered to-day, but is published in the Express in violation of a pledge to keep it secret till its delivery. The message treats at length on the subject of Banks and recommends that they be compelled to keep on hand coin to the amount of 25 per cent. of their indebtedness exclusive of notes.—He also recommends the imposition of tolls on railroad, and allowing them to increase the rate of passenger fares; opposes any grants from the treasury for private enterprises and institutions; states the deficiency in the canal revenues at $2,500,000, to meet which there is only the loan of $500,000 authorized by the last Legislature, and suggests direct taxation of one half million annually for two years as a revenue.

Suggests the enactment of a registry law; speaks with satisfaction of the laws of the last session in reference to the city of New York, particularly the police acts. Favors the removal of Quarantine to Sandy Hook. Recommends legislation to prevent such extraordinary use of the power of granting injunction, as has been done during the last year, and opposes the introduction of slavery into Kansas,

The Weather.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.

Despatches from Canada and eastward report very cold weather to-day. At Quebec and Montreal thermometer about zero, at Sackville, N. B. thermometer 6 deg. below. A heavy snow storm is prevailing at Boston and other parts of New England. Four inches have fallen at Boston and is still coming. In New York snow fell most of the morning but melted as it fell, and has now ceased. Weather rather mild.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.

The Washington correspondent of the Times, says the Yessarri treaty will be rejected by the Senate, should it ever reach that body. It has not yet returned from Nicaragua.

The Tribune correspondent says, Mr. Douglas will contend that the arrest of Walker, even on the high seas, would have been illegal.

Judge Black is writing an opinion for the President, maintaining the adverse views.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.

A meeting of the members of the bench and bar was held this morning in the Supreme Court room, as an expression of respect to the memory of Hon. David Stuart, who died yesterday. Suitable resolutions were adopted. Mr. Stuart was formerly U. S. Senator from Md.

FROM KANSAS.

Peace in the Southwest—The War at Fort Scott over.

QUINDORA, KANSAS, Monday, Dec. 28, 1857.

The disturbances in the Southwest are over, at least for the present. All the Missourians suddenly dispersed, on receiving Lane's proclamation that bona fide peaceful settlers would be protected, but that all Missourians found with arms in their hands would be hanged.

The "rebellion" prisoners at Fort Scott are all set at liberty.

Having gained all they demanded, the Free State men, under Lane, have returned to their homes, and he arrived in Lawrence Saturday night. The last detachments of U. S., troops that went down to assist in "subduing" Lane and his men, will arrive at Fort Scott about three days after the restoration of peace!

Fort Scott is not, as many suppose, now occupied by the U. S. troops. It is an abandoned military post, which was sold by our Government to a company of Pro-Slavery men, soon after the organization of this Territory. It was sold for $5,000, though its improvements had cost the United States over $120,000!

FATAL AFFRAY IN QUINDORA.

A colored man named Oakes, who came here last year as a body servant of Col. Buford's fatally stabbed another negro in this town, on Friday. After a preliminary examination before Judge P. T. Colby, he was committed for final trial.

THE LATEST RUMOR.

During the excitement now prevailing, the country is full of the wildest rumors. The latest comes from Independence, and states that a requisition is already out for "Jim" Lane, to arrest him for high treason. It is not generally believed. Such an event would do more than anything else to inflame the bitter public feeling throughout the Territory. CRAYON.

MILWAUKEE:

THURSDAY MORNING, JAN'Y 7.

City Affairs.

The Common Council meet to-night to discuss the subject of the City Taxes and the panacea proposed by the Comptroller. This plan of relief is thus stated in that officer's report:

By funding a part, or the whole of the floating debt, by an issue of bonds payable in twenty years, bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, and remitting one half the amount of taxes levied, would materially relieve our tax payers. In making these suggestions I am prompted solely by a regard for the interest of our city, while I feel confident that my recommendations will receive the hearty approval of a majority of our tax payers, whose burdens will be reduced one half, should you follow the course proposed; while those who have been backward will at once come forward and contribute their proportion towards relieving the city of her embarrassments.

Whether this, or some other expedient be hit upon—such as dividing the payment of taxes into three instalments, for instance—it is quite clear that some measure of relief is absolutely necessary. People have not got and cannot get the money to pay their taxes now, even were their disposition to do so the best possible, which it is very far from being.

There is another matter which should also engage the attention of the Council. Charges of malfeasance in office have been publicly preferred against one of their number. We allude to Alderman TAYLOR, of the Fourth Ward. Not to specify other cases, take the following specimen of Aldermanic sharp practice from the Free Democrat of Tuesday—it being the same case referred to in the Sentinel, a day or two since:

In this connection we wish to call public attention to the administration of the affairs of this Ward. We find fifteen 7 1-4 dollars of spurious tax for street repairs against our building, when not a thing was done, to our knowledge.—We learn also that there is a special tax against most of the lots on the 4th Ward, and the amount charged for repairing and cleaning streets is over five thousand dollars—a larger sum, we are told, than was exceeded for this purpose in all the other Wards of the city. We also learn that the Alderman of this Ward who has special charge of this matter, Jonathan Taylor, has receipted the orders for the work and drawn the funds—that he charged and drew $150 for making out the special tax list of the Ward, for which Mr. Robert Whitehead, who did the work, charged $15; and that these are but specimens of his management in this Ward. Mr. Whitehead has not got his pay, and whether the contractors have or not, we are not informed. We hope a thorough investigation will be made.

Now if these things be true, and we hear them vouched for by reliable witnesses, Alderman TAYLOR should be forthwith expelled from the Council and handed over to the Grand Jury.—Some such example is greatly needed; and if there are any other Aldermen as deep in the mud as Alderman TAYLOR is in the mire, let the same measure be meted out to them. It is understood that Ald. TAYLOR, with his family, has left the city—some say to return in the spring, others say not. Be that as it may, there is no reason why prompt action should not be taken in regard to these charges.

GREAT BILLIARD MATCH.—The long talked of match of billiards, which has excited the amateurs of billiards, came off at Philadelphia on the night of the 30th ult. It was between Michael Phelan and Ralph Benjamin of New York. The match was for sixteen games, the one winning the greatest number to be proclaimed victor.—Benjamin won only two out of eleven, which gave Phelan the contest.

The play commenced about half past six, and was not concluded until ten minutes past eleven o'clock, during which time eleven games were played. The game selected was the French carom game of sixteen points, and Phelan gave his adversary three points in each game. The table was the ordinary full size six-pocket table, this being selected by Benjamin as being the most difficult to play on, and giving him some advantage.

A CONFIDENCE TO DOUGHFACES.—The Richmond South, a very plain spoken Pro-Slavery paper, thus expresses its very contemptuous opinion of "Northernmen with Southern principles:"

So Mr. Douglas has showed his cloven foot to the South at last. I never believed he was whole-hoofed. All that he has ever done has been to cajole the South to choose between two evils, to take the best she can get, to sugar over nauseous pills and bribe the Southern members to coax the South to swallow them. I never had confidence in him. I have no confidence in any man North of Mason & Dixon's. They cannot be our friends and be honest. The interests of the two sections are antagonistic. The Northern man who goes for our interest necessarily goes against the interest of the North, his country, and I can have no confidence in a traitor, no matter how high is his price."

Our "National Democrats," forsooth, who harp so much upon "Sectionalism," may "see themselves as others see them" in the mirror thus held up by the Richmond South.

GOOD ADVICE.—The following honest piece of advice we copy from Life Illustrated and respectfully request that all our readers who are anxiously hoping for the times to mend, will "read, mark and inwardly digest" the subject herein set forth for their serious consideration:

HOW TO MAKE THE "GOOD TIME" COME RIGHT ALONG.—Give all the editors "a dollar or two" to carry in their pockets, and a hopeful ray of mental sunshine will soon lighten up their depressed and desponding spirits, and directly you may read in their papers of "a favorable change" in the financial condition of the country. This will induce timid capitalists and bankers to put out their funds—which they have called in—manufacturers to hoist the gates and start the wheels of their machinery, and thus give honorable employment to honest hands. This will create a demand for agricultural produce, for "home consumption," put money into the pockets of farmers, and they, in return, pay the printer, the storekeeper, the tailor, blacksmith, shoemaker, the schoolmaster, and others. Try it.—There is no less money in the world now, but much more, than at any previous time. All that is necessary to restore business, is simply to restore confidence, and to put the now buried up or lying idle, into active circulation. If you owe the printer a dollar for his paper or for advertising pay him promptly, the whole if you can, a part anyhow, and he will, in return, pay those to whom he is indebted, and thus, throughout the ramifications of business, new life and activity will at once be manifested. Send us a dollar or two and try it.

THE HUDSON RIVER OPEN.—We learn from the Albany Evening Journal of Saturday last, the 2d instant, that navigation on the Hudson is unobstructed by ice and steamboats arriving and departing daily.

SMALL BUSINESS.—It is stated that Mr. BUCHANAN will not send to the Senate Northern Postmasters for confirmation until the DOUGLAS insurrection is over; in other words, not until Northern M. C.'s sustain the Lecompton Convention.

LEGAL CARD.—It will be seen, by reference to a card in our advertising columns that Ex-Gov. Bushford will at once resume the practice of his profession, in Oshkosh. Mr. Bushford is among the best and most experienced lawyers in the State, and his partner, Mr. Brush, has an excellent reputation as an able, energetic and trustworthy man, so that the firm may be looked upon as one of the ablest and most reliable in the State. —Madison Journal.

THE LAST RELIC.—Mr. Ellwood Walter, Secretary of the N. Y. Board of Underwriters, has in his possession the gilt ball of the flag staff of the steamship Arctic. It is the only relic of her, and was found by one of the parties who went from Newfoundland in search of her remains.—It has been recognised by Captain Luce and others.

THRILLING ACCOUNT OF THE RELIEF OF LUCKNOW —HOW A SCOTCH WOMAN'S EAR DETECTED THE SLOGAN.

[From Le Pays, of Paris.]

CALCUTTA, THURSDAY, } Oct. 8, '57. }

I give you the following account of the relief of Lucknow, as described by a lady, one of the rescued party: On every side death stared us in the face—no human skill could avert it any longer. We saw the moment approach when we must bid farewell to earth, yet without losing that unutterable horror which must have been experienced by the unhappy victims of Cawnpore. We were resolved rather to die than to yield, and were fully persuaded that in twenty-four hours all would be over. The engineers had said so, and all knew the worst.

We women strove to encourage each other, and to perform the light duties which had been assigned to us, such as conveying orders to the batteries, and supplying the men with provisions—especially cups of coffee, which we prepared day and night. I had gone out to try and make myself useful, in company with Jessie Brown, the wife of a corporal in my husband's regiment.—Poor Jessie had been in a state of restless excitement all through the siege, and had fallen away visibly within the last few days. A constant fever consumed her, and her mind wandered occasionally, especially that day, when the recollections of home seemed powerfully present to her. At last, overcome with fatigue, she laid down on the ground wrapped up in her plaid. I sat beside her, promising to awaken her when, as she said, "her father should return from the plowing." She fell at length into a profound slumber, motionless, and, apparently, breathless, her head resting in my lap.

I myself could no longer resist the inclination to sleep, in spite of the continual roar of cannon. Suddenly I was aroused by a wild unearthly scream, close to my ear; my companion stood upright beside me, her arms raised, and her head bent forward in the attitude of listening. A look of intense delight broke over her countenance—she grasped my hand, drew me towards her, and exclaimed, "Dinna ye hear it? Dinna ye hear? Ay, I'm no dreamin', it's the slogan of the Highlanders! We're saved, we're saved!" Then, flinging herself on her knees, she thanked God with passionate fervor. I felt utterly bewildered; my English ears heard only the roar of artillery, and I thought my poor Jessie was still raving, but she darted to the batteries, and I heard her cry incessantly to the men, "Courage, courage!—hark to the slogan—to the Macgregor, the grandest o' them a.' Here's help at last!"

To describe the effect of these words upon the soldiers would be impossible. For a moment they ceased firing, and every soul listened in intense anxiety. Gradually, however, there arose a murmur of bitter disappointment, and the wailing of the women who had flocked to the spot burst anew as the Colonel shook his head. Our dull lowland ears heard nothing but the rattle of the musketry. A few moments more of this deathlike suspense, of this agonizing hope, and Jessie who had sunk on the ground, sprang to her feet, and cried, in a voice so clear and piercing that it was heard along the whole line—"Will ye no believe it no? The slogan has ceased indeed, but the Campbells are comin? D'ye hear, d'ye hear?"

At that moment we seemed indeed to hear the voice of God in the distance, when the pibroch of the Highlanders brought us tidings of deliverance, for now there was no longer any doubt of the fact. That shrill, penetrating, ceaseless sound, which rose above all other sounds, came neither from the advance of the enemy, nor from the work of the Sappers. No, it was indeed the blast of the Scottish bagpipes, now shrill and harsh, as threatening vengeance on the foe, then in softer tones seeming to promise succor to their friends in need. Never surely was there such a scene as that which followed. Not a heart in the residency of Lucknow but bowed itself before God. All by one simultaneous impulse, fell upon their knees, and nothing was heard but bursting sobs and the murmured voice of prayer.

Then all arose, and there rang out from a thousand lips a great shout of joy which resounded far and wide, and lent new vigor to that blest pibroch. "God save the Queen," they replied by the well-known strain that moves every Scot to tears, "Should auld acquaintance be forgot," &c. After that nothing else made any impression on me. I scarcely remembered what followed. Jessie was presented to the General on his entrance into the fort, and at the officers' banquet her health was drank by all present, while the pipers marched round the table playing once more the familiar air of "Auld lang syne."

A WAIF FROM THE SEA.—A note, of which the following is a copy, was found in a sealed bottle which was picked up a few days since on Scoutiest Neck beach, in this vicinity, by Mr Allen Dudley:

SHIP BEN BROWN, } Off Coast of Africa, July 20, 1856. }

"Every man sick except 3. Blew very hard last night. Provisions all given out and water in the hold.

PETER RUSH."

The bottle was an English ale bottle entirely covered with sea moss, its "ancient and fish like appearance" well attesting the authenticity, at least, of the date of the note. The paper upon which the note is penned is much worn, evidently from chafing against the sides of the bottle, and the ink is much faded. When, and under what circumstances it commenced its evidently protracted voyage and how it came into our waters we leave for those better versed than ourselves in maritime affairs to decide.—New Bedford Mercury, Dec. 24.

SINGULAR INCIDENT.—A PORTABLE LIGHTNING ROD.—A person residing in the 20th ward has exhibited the strangest phase of monomania out. Although sane, and accounted a man of strong sense upon other subjects, he has not ventured into the streets for many weeks, during a rain storm, without a lightning rod attached to him. It is an iron rod about five feet in length, with a trio of prongs at the top, and so bent that it hangs or sits upon the crown of his hat, where it is fastened, with the upper end rising some ten inches above him; and the rod rounding down his back a middle, being held in its place by a band about his waist. The lower end stands out at an angle of forty degrees, like a monkey's tail, so as to convey the electric fluid some distance should he be struck while walking.—New York Daily News.

AN INDIAN CHIEF SURPRISED BY HIGHWAY ROBBERS.—Peter Wilson, an Indian Chief, of the Cattaraugus tribe, residing in Cattaraugus Co., N. Y., arrived in this city a few days ago, and put up at Lovejoy's Hotel. On Wednesday night, as he was passing through Church street, on his way to the hotel, he was attacked by six ruffians, who knocked him down and robbed him of $70. Mr. Wilson seized the fellow who abstracted the money from his pocket, and was pounding him in regular native style, when Policeman Nesbitt, of the Fifth Precinct, came up and took the thief in custody. The prisoner, who gave his name as Charles Costello, was yesterday locked up by Justice Welsh. The other ruffians ran off with the plunder, leaving their comrade in the hands of Wilson. The complainant is a nephew of the renowned warrior "Red Jacket," and holds, by inheritance, the silver tomahawk of that noted chief.—N. Y. Tribune.

LA CROSSE AND MILWAUKEE R. R.—The Albany Evening Journal, of Saturday last, thus speaks of the newly appointed Treasurer of the La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R. Company:

Lockwood L. Doty, Esq., who for the last four years has so acceptably filled the office of Deputy Treasurer of this State, has been appointed Treasurer of the La Crosse & Milwaukee Railroad Company. His office and residence will be Milwaukee, Wisconsin. This is an excellent appointment for the R. R. Co. But the large circle of Mr. Doty's friends will regard his removal from the State with sincere regret. As an officer and a man, none was more universally respected in this State than Mr. Doty.

MOTHS IN THE CARPET.—A lady in Brooklyn says:

"Please tell me and other readers of the Tribune how, if there is any way, to prevent moths destroying carpets. One of mine is getting damaged very much, especially near the edge by the wall, under the piano, and in spots where they are not likely to be disturbed. Is there any way to prevent this destruction without taking up the carpets and having them beaten out, which is inconvenient at this season?"

Yes; very easy. Buy half a pound of gum camphor, for twenty-five cents, and that will save all the carpets in your house for a year, by placing a few little crumbs under the edges of the carpets without moving them.—N. Y. Tribune.

SOMETHING "SALUTARY" IN KANSAS.—We have received the first number of the Southern Kansas Herald, published at Osawatomie, K. T. It is opened with what the editor calls a "Salutary," Good. It is high time something salutary was introduced into Kansas.—Boston Courier.

Locomotives Destroyed.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 5.

The machine shop of the Central Railroad was consumed last night. Seven locomotives were destroyed. Loss $25,000; insurance trifling.

A PREVALENT HABIT.—The Ohio papers are just now complaining of the habit of State and County Treasurers speculating with public funds. This habit is not confined to Ohio.

New Year's Day in New York.

New Year's day was celebrated in this city with unusual zest and brilliancy. An April sun opened on the 1st of January—with a bright, clear sky, and a healthy, invigorating air—that tempted into the streets all of our male population, young and old. Here from 10 o'clock on to 7 or 8 P. M.—the streets were filled with men on foot, or in carriages, going, and driving in all directions, from the Battery to King's Bridge.—All were in their best habiliments—and gave reasons for the hatters, the glove dealers, &c., &c., to rejoice that another New Year's had come.

The ladies, seldom alone—for the reception of New Year's company by a single lady is found to be a very difficult thing—were in groups sometimes of six or seven, or ten, as on that day our country cousins all come in, when they can, to see the spectacle. The ladies were all adorned in grand toilettes for the occasion, and showed not on their persons the least sensibility to, or susceptibility about "the hard times." Diamonds, brilliants, &c., sparkled just as beautifully as ever, and precious stones, and corals, and mosaics adorned more or less, the arms or necks of all, or, as rivals of their eyes, flashed pendant from their ears. Their silks, satins, and brocades were just as costly as ever. The looms of France, and England, and Belgium had produced for them their costliest and most recherche articles, and the spider herself could not spin finer threads than fairy fingers in Belgium cellars and garrets had put together in laces for them.—Wealth enough was on the ladies of New York city yesterday, and in the furniture of their houses to pay the whole National Debt of the Federal Government. The equipages in which their lords and masters went to see other ladies were often proportionally brilliant, in the richest quarters of the city. From Bleecker to Fortieth street—now about the fashionable quarter—the very horses seemed to trend with pride, as they sported with the gay servants in livery, or drew the grand voitures.

The struggles of some, especially of the younger beaux, to make many "calls," were almost ludicrous,—as they rushed in, or rushed out, ejaculating "How d'ye do?" "Happy New Year!" "Beautiful weather!" "Adieu!" (a languishing adieu, perhaps with eyes almost tears dropping, that they had to go.) By 2 o'clock, some of these desperately working beaux had run up their "calls" to 200, and on, they were racing, perspiring, fever-hot, jumping up steps, and running down, bobbing in and leaping out, in laughable commotion. Some little lady clerk, not clerk of the weather, but clerk of New Year's, was in some nook and corner, pen or pencil in hand, writing down the names of all as they came in or went out. To look over, to consider and re-consider, was the work of the evening, or of the year to come, perhaps. How each and every one was discussed, or carved up, or gilded over,—the Reporter cannot stop to note here,—but if the ears of some of them did not tingle afterwards, and others did not blush over the compliments lavished upon them, there is no sympathy between women's tongues and men's ears or cheeks. Other establishments insisted upon the autographs of all that came in, and as a man came in, or went out, there stood clerk at the door, handing him pen, to write opposite to his call (say some 357 perhaps,) the autograph of his name. Thus things went on from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M., and in some houses perhaps later.

The spectacle of the streets at night in the upper part of the city, especially on the avenues, and the cross streets, was exceedingly beautiful.—Every gas lamp seemed to be lighted, and thro' open shutters and costly curtains, were disclosed to the eye of the observer, the luxury and splendor of the interior. The city, indeed, seemed to be illuminated in every window,—and a stranger would think some grand ovation was going on, or some great gala day was being celebrated. But now in contrast with these flattering records—we regret to be compelled to state, that never before, on the 1st of January, did drunkenness and intoxication seem so prevalent in the streets.

In quarters where the laboring classes most reside, it was painful to see what mischief bad rum, or chronically made liquor called "Rum," or "Gin," or "Brandy," was doing. Often was seen some sober good fellow, helping homeward a staggering, tumbling, hiccoughing, yelping beast of a drunkard, who had lost all sense of decency, or capacity to move in a straight line. At times, bloody faces and bloody heads, with crowds gathering about—were seen, of men and even of low women, who had been celebrating the day in trying to scratch out each other's eyes. Occasionally, in other quarters, "Loafers," "Short Bboys," or "Dead Rabbit gentlemen," obtruded themselves into houses where "calls were received," to wish the lady "a happy new year," and to drink her health. In such cases, if the spoons and forks were not well watched, there was great danger that they might be gone. In other cases, the most infamous class of elegant gamblers, or procurers, in diamond rings or breast-pins,—and abounding in well curled whiskers or moustaches, strutted in, to aristocratic establishments, self introducing, and trod over the plaitured Ambusson carpets,—as large as life.

But much must be pardoned to the liberty of a New Year's Day. It is a glorious custom, handed down to us from our Dutch ancestors, when our city extended only from the Battery to Wall Street—and now when the city reaches four miles further up, and holds within and about it, the most motley population of the world,—a million in number or more,—it is marvellous, that such a great Festival does not turn up more "incidents" or accidents within it, rather than so few. It is our "Carnival" day,—our "Saturnalia," and the wonder is, that here now, it works as well as it does.—N. Y. Express.

Spicy Correspondence—A True Wife.

From the Boston Post, Dec. 29.

We are assured by a friend who is personally cognizant of what he states, that the following piquant correspondence is genuine. A gentleman whose business calls him a good deal from home, is accustomed to give the custody of his correspondence to his wife, an intelligent lady, who, in obedience to instructions, opens all letters that come in her husband's absence; answers such of them as she can, like a confidential clerk, and forwards the rest to her liege lord at such places as he may have designated at his departure. During a recent absence of her husband, the lady received a letter, of which the following (omitting names, dates and places,) is a true copy:

"My DEAR SIR: I saw a fine picture of you yesterday, and fell in love with it, as I did with the original in W——— last Winter, when I saw you more than an hour, though I suppose you did not see me among so many. I fear you will think me forward in thus adressing you; but I trust you are as noble and unsuspecting as you are handsome and brilliant. Perhaps you would like to know something about me—your ardent admirer! Well I am not very good at description, but I will say I am not married (though you are, I am told.) My friends tell me I have not a pretty face, but only a good figure. I am rather petite, have black eyes, black hair, and a dark complexion—that is, I am what is called a "brunette." I am stopping for a few weeks with my brother-in-law and sister in this town, and it dearly wish you would meet me there before I return to W———. At any rate, do not fail to write me at least a few words to tell me whether I shall ever see you again, and know you more intimately. Forgive my boldness, and believe me, Your friend, ———

To this letter the wife, who, by the by, has not the least knowledge of the person to whom she was writing, made the following answer:

"MADEMOISELLE: Your letter of the—inst., addressed to Mr.———, was duly received. Mr.——, who is my husband, directed me, when he left home some days ago, to open all his letters, and to answer any of them that I conveniently could. As you seem to be rather impatient, I will answer your letter myself. I do not think your description of yourself will please Mr.———. I happen to know that he dislikes black eyes, and hates brunettes most decidedly. It is quite true (as you seem to suppose) that he judges of women as he does of horses; but I do not think your inventory of your "points" is complete enough to be satisfactory to him. You omit to mention your height, your weight, wind, speed, and [here the word is illegible.] Taking your charms at your own estimate, I doubt whether they will prove sufficiently attractive to draw him so far as B——merely for the satisfaction of comparing them with the sobriquets. You say you trust my husband is "unsuspecting." I think that is his nature; but yet he is used to drawing inferences, which are sometimes as unkind as suspicious. You say you are unmarried. My advice to you is that you marry somebody as soon as possible. In most cases, I would not recommend haste; but in yours I am convinced there is truth in the proverb which speaks of the danger of delay.—Should you be so fortunate as to get a husband (which may God mercifully grant!), my opinion is that you will consider any woman who should write him such a letter as this of yours impertinence, and, perhaps, immodest.

"I will deliver your note to Mr.——— when he returns, and also a copy of my reply, which I am sure he will approve.

"I am, with as much respect as you permit, MRS.———."

This was the end of the correspondence.

☞A rather singular case has recently been decided in Indiana, by which it is declared that marriage in that state requires no formalities to make it legal, except the mere agreement of the parties—that it is a civil contract only, and differs from other civil contracts merely in this—that it cannot be dissolved, even by mutual consent. It is provided in section seven of the revised statutes of Indiana, that "no marriages shall be void, or voidable, for the want of license or other formalities required by law, if either of the parties thereto believe it to be a legal marriage at the time."

CHESS.—This kingly game has suddenly risen into note in our city, by the presence of several players of marked reputation and unquestioned skill, who have exhibited their movements to a group of invited guests. We, ourselves, sat several hours calculating the probabilities of the contest, with an interest and enthusiasm which we did not suppose we should again feel upon so inconsiderable a subject. The American champion, to save youth, won the game. To him it was purely an intellectual gladiatorship. He was a pale, thoughtful looking young man, with large eyes and delicate make, who played as if he loved the tilt. We observed he took no stimulants, neither snuff, cigars, nor brandy, while his opponent luxuriated in all these.

In former times, renowned warriors, ministers of state, rulers and kings, devoted themselves to the princely game of chess, and practiced upon the mimic battle-field those military evolutions, and those diplomatics of Church and State which symbolize the government of a kingdom. In our own democratic times, much of this is lost; but, a game, appealing to the intellect no less than to the imagination, it is, par excellence, the game of games. Young men who expend so much time upon amusements which have little about them to invigorate the mind, or interest the fancy, would find the benefit of a sturdy game of chess.

It is said women rarely play a good game.—We should like to know how this is—whether they really are deficient in the qualities of mind essential, or whether it is that they have rarely leisure and opportunity for the discipline and study required. Mrs. Somerville, Miss Herschell, Maria Mitchell, and others, prove that the higher mathematics are not repugnant to the womanly brain; and, as in chess playing, these faculties are used to only a limited degree, we apprehend the remark we lately heard, "women can't play chess," is only a relic of exploded errors.—Emerson's May.

But sure, I think that I can drink
With him that wears a hood.
Though I go bare, take ye no care,
I nothing am a cold.
I stuff my skin so full within,
Of jolly good ale and old.
Back and side go bare, go bare,
Both foot and hand go cold;
But, belly, God send thee good ale enough
Whether it be new or old.

I have no roast but a nut brown toast,
And a crab laid in the fire;
A little bread shall do me stead,
Much bread I do not desire.
No frost, no snow, no wind, I trow
Can hurt me if I would,
I am so wrapp, and thoroughly lapt
In jolly good ale and old.
Back and side go bare, &c.

And Tib, my wife, that has her life,
Loveth good ale to seek;
Full oft drinks she till ye may see
The tears run down her cheek.
Then doth she troll to me the bowl,
Even as a maltworm should,
And saith, "Sweetheart, I took my part
Of this jolly good ale and old."
Back and side go bare, &c.

Now, let them drink, till they nod and wink,
Even as good fellows should do;
They shall not miss to have the bliss
Good ale doth bring men to;
And all ye souls that have scored bowls,
Or have been lately tried,
God save the lives of both thee and their wives,
Whether they be young or old.
Back and side go bare, &c.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED.—With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator. (See Advertisement.)

THE CURES made by Prof. DE GRATH, with his "ELECTRO OIL," are almost miraculous, and so wonderful and instantaneous, so satisfactory, and mitigating of human ill, as to call upon public functionaries, and those having charge of public institutions for the sick and suffering, to look well into the well attested merits, the simple efficacy of this "ELECTRO OIL."

☞ The sales are rapidly increasing. Dealers supplied at proprietor's prices, by Prof. O. DE GRATH, No. 3 South Eighth street, near Chestnut.

☞ For sale by Bosworth & Sons, and J. H. Teschemacher; Johnstock & Davis, and Reed & Co., Chicago; and by Druggists and Merchants generally throughout the country. Jan4d4w1y

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of a invaluable Hair Restorative, will continue to labor in behalf of the afflicted.

His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of a bald, that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantage of youth.

There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries to the medical world. It restores permanently gray hair to its original color, and makes it assume the beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

CALEB WALL'S ADV'TS

CITY AUCTION ROOM.

City Auction Room.

I GAVE NOTICE through our papers last week, that I had a large stock of Dry Goods from N. York, from Sixth Avenue, No. 839, corner of Twenty-first st. The goods are all from New York, and no other place; and as regards the goods, there are not many fancy ones; so much the better. They are plain, substantial goods, which we will want every day in our families. The goods are now all opened in the store on the west side of the river, formerly occupied by J. L. Pierce, where they will remain for thirty or sixty days. It is no intention of mine whatever to open a retail store, although I have as much right to do as a please, as any one else has to do as he pleases. I have heard that several of our merchants complain that I am injuring the trade by selling goods so low. I would kindly say to those merchants that the goods are all paid for, and if they will come and purchase them of me at an advance price, I will give them credit, provided they can give me good paper, extend at sixty or twelve months, or I will sell the entire stock out, which amounts to twenty thousand dollars, on the following terms: One-fourth cash in three months—balance, in one, two or three years, with seven per cent. interest, secured by a mortgage on property in our city. But I shall continue to retail the goods until they are all sold, and I would say to all of our citizens to go and get great bargains. There is every kind of goods you want at thirty per cent less than ever sold in this city before. Mr. Ayres has the entire charge of the said goods. I attend to all auction business at the old corner, and will give it that strict attention I always have done. Any one having stocks of goods to sell, I am ready at all times to purchase the same. Call on me.

dec9 CALEB WALL, City Auctioneer.

City Auction Room.

I WANT to purchase twenty thousand to thirty thousand dollars worth of Dry Goods in the following way: One quarter cash, balance in good city property; or I will pay all cash if I can agree on prices; or I will exchange good Goods and well secured Stocks, or School Lands. Any one who is tired of trade, and wishes to give up and retire to private life, call on me and I will buy you out. My object is to go good, and I will benefit all the same time. Or, if any one wants to sell his stock of Goods at auction, I will advance him from one-fourth to one-third it is worth on said Goods. I will advance on all kinds of Goods, Furniture, &c., to suit and range with the sale ten days after the advance, or the parties can, if they wish, redeem by paying the Commission. All I want is to make money out of money, and keep the balance rolling. Also want it understood that I am ready to do all auction business or trade out to my care. Oh, I would also say that the great stock of Goods which has been selling on the west side of the river, at half price, shall keep selling for the next thirty days longer. The crowd is so great and Goods so cheap that I think it my duty to give all a chance to get great bargains. Recollect it is in the store room formerly occupied by J. L. Pierce, on west side of the river. CALEB WALL.

dec22

City Auction Room.

ANOTHER STOCK OF GOODS arrived, all from New York. I have now, I think, the largest and most complete assortment of Dry Goods, ever at the corner store, where J. L. Pierce formerly kept, on the west side of the River. The said Goods are going off 30 per cent less than cost. Great crowds every day.—Twenty two thousand dollars worth of Goods, every thing you can think of. Ten clerks ready to wait on every person. A chance. CALEB WALL.

City Auction Room.

I HAVE, left in my care, a superior Family Horse, which can be recommended, and will be sold at a great bargain to some one. The owner of said horse is going to be abroad for six or eight months. This is the reason said horse is sold. It will be sold on six months time if desired. CALEB WALL.
